Tomorrow afternoon the Baccalaureate service, an important part of graduation week end, will be held at two-thirty in the Congregational Church. The Baccalaureate Choir, made up of undergraduates of Gould Academy, will sing the beautiful "Lo, a Voice from Heaven is Sounding." Eileen Goodrich, a Gould graduate of the class of 1943, will sing a solo. Outstanding on the program will be an address to the graduating class by the Reverend Cornelius E. Clark, superintendent of Maine Congregational Churches.

THE CLASS OF 1946

—Gould Camera Club

NEW CAMERA CLUB SALON NOW OPEN

The fourth annual exhibition of the Gould Camera Club is now on display in room 106 in Hanscom Hall. The exhibit opened on Monday, June third and will continue to be shown through June tenth. Fifty enlargements by Camera Club members are on display, including the eight best pictures in last year's exhibition. All the work of selecting the subjects, taking the pictures, enlarging, mounting, and finally spotting the prints was done by club members who had spent long hours under the supervision of Mr. Foster, whose reputation for his salon prints is well known.

The examiner of these fine prints will see a great variety of subjects: still life, snow scenes, action shots, and many phases of school activity in posed and unposed pictures. At Camera Club meetings, Mr. Foster has drilled on the importance of every picture telling a story, and all of these salon prints do. Some tell stories of the work in laboratory, experimenting after snow storms, the comments, the cold winter concentration involved in a chess game, and the bi-annual strength tests given to the boys.

Some of the most striking of these prints are "Pirate" by Dick Sprague, "Phantom of the Chessboard" by Larry Clement, "Ouch!" by Robert Storey, and "King Ko Ko" by Barbara Galbraith.

Also in addition to this exhibition, the club arranged a show of hundreds of prints made by club members in the last four years to be on display in the Holden Hall basement and darkroom where all the club's work is done. Many salon prints which have been hung all over the country and abroad are here, and the results of the work of many hours can be seen here by anyone interested in visiting this exhibit.

MISS GALLAGHER, MISS DUMAIS, MISS NEWMAN RESIGN

Three members of the women faculty, Miss Gallagher, Miss Newmann and Miss Dumais, have resigned and will not return to Gould next year.

Miss Thelma Gallagher, head of home economics department, is leaving to be married this summer during the last of July. Miss Gallagher came to Gould in the fall of 1941, teaching home economics here for five years.

Miss Barbara Newman, head of the girls' physical education department, also came here in the fall of 1941. She has taught physical education here for five years and one year of Freshman English. Miss Newman plans to go to St. Lawrence University, Canton, New York next fall, where she will do, part time teaching, and also take some courses to obtain a Master's Degree.

Miss Dorothy Dumais came to Gould last fall and has taught Latin I and all the French classes this year. Next year she will teach at Lewiston High School, where she plans to have Latin classes only.

FORMAL TONIGHT

The Senior Reception will be held in the William Bingham Gymnasium this evening at 8:00. The Edward Little Varsityers will provide music for the dance.

The committee for the prom is under the supervision of Mr. Scott and Mr. Chivers. The senior committee members are Lucia MacClintock and Robert Lord. The juniors on the committee are Dick Day, Jacqueline Macfarlane, Irene Wight, Sterling Pierce, Harlan Blake, and Janice Bowman.

CONCERT TOMORROW NIGHT TO SHOW ALL-GOULD TALENT

The Commencement Concert, which has been an annual Gould custom for the past five years, will be held tomorrow evening at eight o'clock in the William Bingham Gymnasium. In the past it has been the practice to engage outside artists who have given us some very fine performances. This year Gould is very pleased to be able to present a program made up entirely of school talent. The six participants, who are senior members of the William Rogers Chapman Club, are Priscilla Goggin, Carolyn Van Dusen, Marie White, Judith Cole, Theodore Emery, Jr., and Donald Brooks.

The program is to be as follows:
1. Three Waltzes Brahms
No. 2 in E-No. 1 in B-No. 15
in A flat
Carolyn Van Dusen
2. To Be Sung on the Water
Thou Art My Rest Schubert
Priscilla Goggin

The graduation exercises for the senior class of 1946 will be held in the William Bingham Gymnasium at ten o'clock on Monday, June tenth. The program is to be similar to last year's with only one major change. Instead of having an outside speaker as in former years, the four senior speakers will have longer speeches, and the program will be conducted entirely by the seven honor students.

The commencement honor parts are as follows: Salutatory, "Appreciation of Art, Literature, Music, and Nature"—Marilyn Noyes; Honor Essay, "Science in the High School Curriculum"—Theodore Emery; Honor Essay, "Democracy in Education"—Priscilla Ring; Valedictory, "Consumer Education"—Dexter Stowell. Margery Ann Howard will be chairman of the exercises; Nellie Lagham will deliver the invocation, and Colleen Bennett will give the benediction.

The Gould Academy orchestra, under the direction of Miss Ann Griggs will play the graduation march, Mendelssohn's "War March of The Priests." They will play in addition "The Hungarian Overture." The glee clubs, also under the direction of Miss Griggs, will each sing a selection. The Boys' Glee Club will sing "We'll Go No More A' Rovin'"; the Girls' Glee Club, "Music," and the Varsity Glee Club "Ode to America."

The customary commencement awards will be given at this time. The Scholarship Cup will be given to the highest ranking class; and the annual scholarship medals will be a

When the Class of 1946 meekly entered the gates of knowledge at Gould Academy on September 15, 1942, it was the largest class by fourteen that had ever enrolled here as freshmen; and numbered eighty students. When we held our first class meeting, Ann Terriberry was elected president, while Carolyn Bryant, Barbro Freese, and Helen Robertson were elected vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, respectively. For our class colors we chose mayonnaise and cream, and our motto was to be, "The truth shall make us free." The class participated in almost all the activities of the school and first showed its ability in a musical entertainment during the Freshman Reception of that year.

In the fall of 1943 the Class of 1946 returned prepared to assume the positions of the three upper classes, since the lowly freshman year was past and we were now in "big time." That year we elected as officers Gordon Lawry, president; Carolyn Bryant, vice-president; Barbro Freese, secretary; and Jack Marshall, treasurer. Now the athletic ability of the class was beginning to show with a few boys winning their letters and the girls their numerals. In the musical line, our class was well represented in the band, orchestra, and Chapman Club.

In the fall of 1944 the Class of 1946, the largest in school history (eighty-five students), began its third year in prep school. Although this year was not very spectacular in athletics, our class made up the bulk of the teams and gained the experience that made this school outstanding in the '45-'46 athletic season. (The athletic girls of our class were really on the ball as they chalked up more victories than any other class in the intermural program. The boys also came through as they won the class basketball tournament, which they duplicated in 1946. During this year Gordon Lawry was again president, while Donald Brooks, Marie White, and William Hastings held the other offices.

Last fall we returned, seventy-five strong, to start one of the most outstanding years in the history of Gould. The same officers were elected as last year with the exception of the vice-presidency, which went to Virginia Scattergood.

This year, for the first time in five years, the Student Council was revived with promising success. Dexter Stowell of our class was elected by the school to lead this group, and also served as president of the Chapman Club. Ted Emery was president of the Science Club, and Marie White that of the Girls' Athletic Association. Margery Ann Howard edited the BLUE and GOLD, and Priscilla Ring our yearbook.

In athletics, this year proved to be one of the best ever witnessed; the six teams turned in high winning percentages. The seniors were so well represented on these teams as to be awarded more letters than the other three classes put together. The girls also showed their ability by winning the gym meet and most of the sports.

In music our class showed themselves as well as in athletics, as can be seen from their participation in the music festivals.

Now, as June tenth rolls around, the Class of 1946 is ready to graduate with the knowledge that it has well lived up to the reputation of the school in scholastic standing, activities, and athletics.

DICK DAY '46 MARSHAL

The class of 1946 elected Dick Day as its marshal, to lead the marching on graduation, baccalaureate, and class day. As is the custom the marshal is chosen from the junior class with an eye on his record at Gould, his accomplishments and his all-round good will, work and popularity.

Dick, who is a resident of Kennebunk, Maine, is the president of the junior class this year and has been on the football team both of the two years that he has been here. His greatest interests are hunting and guns about which he knows quite a bit. He is also known for his acting ability, having played an important part in the one-act play, "Stand and Deliver" last Carnival week end and for his singing prowess, made known in the operetta and in the Christmas Cantata this year. He is also a member of both the Varsity and boys' glee clubs.

MUSIC CLUBS TAKE

STATE MUSIC FESTIVAL

The Gould Academy music clubs traveled to Sanford, Maine on May 11 to take part in the State Music Festival. Auditions were held at Nason College. Recreation Hall in which Gould was represented by the Varsity Glee Club and the Boys' Glee Club. Judging was based on the following points: diction, intonation, tonal quality, attack release, dynamics and appearance. Both glee clubs placed in the first division, receiving A ratings. Soloists from Gould were Priscilla Goggin, vocalist; Theodore Emery, vocalist; Roy Lurvey, clarinet soloist. The foregoing all received superior ratings.

The group stopped at Gorham on the return trip where supper was served to them at the Gorham State Teacher's College.

warded to the highest ranking seniors and the highest ranking boy and girl from each of the three other classes. Dramatic awards, citizenship awards, music awards, activities awards, and awards of athletics will all be given to those seniors who have merited them. As for special awards, the Renaissance medal, the Bauch and Lomb Honorary Science Award, the Becker Scholarship Award, and the Ralph Gould Award for Instrumental Music will be given to the seniors superior in each of those fields. Those outstanding seniors who have been elected for the National Honor Society will also be announced.

MR. VACHON TO SPEAK AT ALUMNI BANQUET

Lieutenant Edmond J. Vachon, recently returned from service in Europe, is to be the speaker at the Alumni Banquet, which is to take place Monday in the dining hall of the Marion True Gehring Students' Home. His subject will be "Germany Yesterday and Today."

In his speech he will trace Nazism from the appointment of Adolph Hitler as Chancellor of the German Reich on January 30, 1933, to the surrender of Germany on May 8, 1945. He will explain the system of German schools, the training and education in the Hitler Youth Movement and the decadence of religion.

The problems of the occupation of Germany are many, since the Germans have been so fully enveloped by Fascism, and Lieutenant Vachon believes that only after a long occupation can the new generation of German people accept the principles of democracy.

SHOP AND SCIENCE

DEPARTMENTS HOLD

ANNUAL OPEN HOUSE

The manual training and science department exhibits were held Thursday, May 23, 1946. At the manual arts exhibit many interesting objects of careful workmanship were shown. Among the many objects that attracted attention were: John Howland's model boat, Errol Donahue's desk, Lawrence Kendall's desk, Harlan Blake's cedar chest, William Hastings' table, and Ralph Grover's bookcase. Mr. Anderson's doll cedar chest, complete with clothes was also a high point.

Upstairs in the science departments many experiments were demonstrated. In the chemistry laboratory the following experiments were performed: titration, destructive distillation of coal, flame test, borax bead test, forms of sulphur, preparation and properties of hydrogen, distillation of water, preparation of oxygen, paint pigments, test for iron salts, and nitric acid. In the physics laboratory the following exhibits were outstanding: Tesla coil, high vacuum pump, light and color, and the electric eye. In the biology exhibit different types of minerals were displayed under microscopes. In the lecture room was the exhibit of general science demonstrations. Basic means of power were displayed and the following other demonstrations could be seen: the climbing spark, electroplating, principles of the gas engine, a storage battery, and a thermometer.

GOULD STUDENTS

TAKE PART IN TOWN HOLIDAY CELEBRATION

On Memorial Day, services were held at the Bethel Monument. The parade which led to the monument was led by the Gould Academy band. In this parade were the members of the Legion, the Boy and Girl Scouts, the students of Gould Academy, and the students of the Grammar School.

At the monument Francis Bean gave the Gettysburg Address, and Mr. David Thompson delivered an appropriate speech; Mr. E. F. Ireland presented certificates to the parents of those boys who were killed in the war.

The benediction was given by the Reverend John J. Foster, after which the band again led back to the Legion Headquarters.

UNDERGRADUATES CHOOSE SUBJECTS FOR NEXT YEAR

There have been few changes made in the list of subjects offered to underclassmen for next year's courses. One of the most noticeable changes is the one made in the English I course. It will be two periods long and include courses in geography, history, hygiene, etiquette, use of the library, etc. Using English as a medium, this course is being presented in order to broaden the first year curriculum. Mr. Vachon will be the instructor.

A combination is being offered under the heading of "practical bookkeeping." It will be offered to sophomores, and Mr. Myers will be the instructor.

Mr. Vachon will teach a course in world history which will be offered as a sophomore subject. It is hoped that this course will broaden general knowledge as well as give a ground of European affairs.

Next year there will be a class in Problems of Democracy under Mr. Scott's instruction. There have been quite a few who have signed up for this course for the coming year. It will be a senior subject.

BARBARA GALBRAITH NEW AA PRESIDENT

On May 28 the Girls' Athletic Association conducted the morning assembly, as it does each year at about this time, announcing the new council for the next year.

Marie White, this year's president, announced the new president of next year's council, Barbara Galbraith, who in turn announced to the school her council members for next year. The other new officers are Wilma Croteau, vice-president, and Jane Kanally, secretary and treasurer. Irene Wight, Connie Coolidge and Sally Shedd are the representatives for their classes. The rest of the Council is as follows: Barbara Learned, hockey manager; Myra Stickney, archery manager; Betsy Grandin, tennis manager; Gertrude Penner, hiking manager; Carol Swan, basketball manager; Jacky McFarland, badminton manager; Mary Plummer, softball manager.

The meeting was then turned over to Miss Newman, who gave out the athletic G's and class numerals, to those who had earned their sufficient number of points. In conclusion Miss Newman wished the Council and all the girls good luck in the coming year.

MR. VACHON RETURNS TO GOULD

MR. EDMOND T. VACHON

Mr. Vachon, who entered the Army October 14, 1943, has recently returned to Gould. Next fall he will resume his position as Senior Master and will teach Freshman English and World history.

Mr. Vachon was commissioned an officer in the Corps of Engineers on September 6, 1944, after attending Jefferson College, Pennsylvania. He became an Intelligence Staff Officer and investigated and evaluated enemy plans, weapons, materiel, and documents in the European Theater of Operations. He made studies and reports of enemy positions, strength, and expected strategy. He translated important allied and enemy documents, formulated opinions on policy concerning strategy against the enemy based on a careful study of the information acquired, questioned enemy prisoners to get information, data, and scientific developments, made arrangements for the movement of army units in the European Theater of Operations.

He later taught foreign languages in Army Universities in Shrivvenham, England and Biarritz, France, and was head of the Foreign Languages Phonetics Laboratory.

He served and traveled in eighteen different countries, islands, and possessions, including England, Scotland, the Orkney Islands, France, Belgium, Luxembourg, Holland, Germany, Austria, Ireland, etc.

He received the European Asiatic Medal, with two campaigns, American Theater Medal, German Occupation Medal, and the World II Victory Medal.

Chapel and Picnic Traditions Observed

The traditional Last Chapel was conducted Friday morning, May 31st. Mr. Ireland opened the exercises with a short farewell speech to the students and to the faculty who have been at Gould for several years and who are now leaving us. He said he feels sure that the gap of their absence will be filled but that there is no match for their individual personalities.

Coach Roderick then awarded the track letters and Mr. Bowhay the baseball letters. Then Miss Griggs initiated a new practice when she awarded letter certificates to the seniors who had contributed much to the school in the field of music.

Lastly everyone joined in the singing of the Gould Alma Mater and according to the custom, the seniors left the assembly room during the last verse.

The Senior Class Picnic was held right after senior marching practice yesterday afternoon, out at Songo Pond. Being the largest graduating class, the seniors had decided to do something different, so they had a clam bake with all the trimmings, including watermelon, after their swim in the pond.

Science and Camera Clubs Make Plans

On the evening of Monday, May 28, at the last meeting of the Gould Academy Science Club, officers of that club were elected for next year. The three senior girls in the club, Leslie Griffin, Kay Shaughnessey and Polly Crane, drew up a slate of nominations, and the following officers were elected by the club members: president, Larry Clement; secretary, Leroy Dymant; and treasurer, Edwin Swain.

Next year this club plans to have its meetings during activities periods in order that more town students may join.

The Camera Club plans to elect its officers for 1946-1947 next fall when the new members as well as the old can vote. This club plans to continue its work of printing and selling post cards and enlargements of campus views and school activities. Also the club plans to have one contest among the members a month, more outside exhibitions and more instructive programs. The Holden Hall basement is being made over into a show room for the club, and next fall the work on it will be resumed.

Streamlined "Herald" Out

"The Academy Herald" for 1946 introduced many changes in the content and style of the year book. The editor, Priscilla Ring, and faculty advisor, Mr. Fossett, are to be commended on the excellent publication.

For the first time, pictures of the senior superlatives appeared. This lent a more personal touch and was welcomed by all.

Articles on the Home Economics Department, Commercial Department, and Shop were omitted this year in order to provide additional space for more photographs and full page drawings.

The 1946 Herald was dedicated to Mr. Clunie in gratitude for his help with the graduating class.

UNDER THE CUPOLA

It seems that we have some alleged ball players on our faculty. Fresh from their softball victory, our illustrious baseball coach and our equally famous ski coach engaged in a hot ball game on Anderson's lawn with the local four to eight year old talent. They were an immediate hit on the field, but try as they would they were no match for the neighborhood sluggers. They might improve with practice though.

Those sixteen senior girls that are seen furiously scratching little bites on their arms and legs are victims of the mosquitoes, gnats, dive-bombers, or whatever the cursed things were encountered on the overnight hike out to Saddleback Mountain. No matter how much exasperation they cause, the hike was worth every one of them—and more. Ask that girl over there, if you can tear her away from that bottle of calamine lotion long enough.

It really doesn't seem possible that this is the last issue of this year's BLUE and GOLD!

How many kids have you heard say, "My, hasn't this year gone fast?" No doubt your tender pink ears are aching for want of an original comment on that subject. Well, you'll have to continue your noble quest—there is no originality pulsing in our brains at this moment. However, maybe you'll bear with us long enough for us to say that it's been swell doing this column and even more swell hearing some of you kids say that you like it.

—CARL WIGHT

No one needs an introduction to Carl Wight, fondly known to his fellow classmates as "Kite", for his warm smile and cheerful disposition have placed him high in the esteem of all.

Kite, born in Bethel, Maine, eighteen years ago on January 13, 1928, has been exceedingly active in all branches of school life during his four years at Gould. He has been most prominent in sports, having been a football player during his junior and senior years, an excellent first baseman on the baseball team, and a participant in class basketball each year.

Music seems to rank high with Carl too, for his bass horn has been an essential part of the band for four years (he's also been a part time tooter in the orchestra!); he sang in the Baccalaureate choir each of his first three years, sang in the boys' glee club and the varsity his first two years, and has sung in the Church Choir all four years. Carl also took part in the operetta "Hats Off" his freshman year and in the "Georgia Jubilee Minstrel" his sophomore year.

Besides being treasurer of the Year Round Club his senior year, Carl has also been a member of the Academy Herald Editorial Board and the Blue and Gold staff for three years, and has done a highly commendable job as sports editor for the Blue and Gold this year.

Carl will enlist in the Army in September for an indefinite length of time, and would like to attend Springfield University in Massachusetts after he leaves the service. After that he plans to become a prep school teacher and coach.

Huskies Romp To State Title

Running ankle-deep in water blanketing the cinders and slipping around while attempting to capture weight events, Gould Academy walked, or rather duck waddled to the Maine Class B Track Championship on the Portland High Athletic Field Saturday, June 1 by a safe margin, 20 points over their nearest competitor, Rockland, which amassed 17 points. Captain Bowman showed his charges the way, capturing the mile on the heavy track in the comparatively slow clocking of 4:58. He was trailed by Lucas who helped the huskies garner their initial points.

From then on, the other Blue and Gold lads performed admirably under the handicap of the weather man's bad mood. Versatile Martin Bovey proved valuable as he captured the discus and broad jumping events. Not only did our champs star individually, but also the relay team pushed Farmington, taking a well earned second in that event.

Other Gould boys to place were: Davis, Bowman, Lucas, Giles, Ireland, Hastings and Bennett.

Once again the track team under Coaches Roderick and Scott has come through. Last year it was a second, this year a first. Next year—well, we'll wait till then, but with the fine coaching and well conditioned fellows, it can't miss being its usual success.

Gould versus Alumni

This afternoon at four the twice defeated Gould Academy baseball team will face its pre-war foe in the Alumni. During the war years no Alumni games could be held, since a majority of the fellows were off winning a war. But now it's a different story. A host of familiar faces will greet the Bethel fans' eyes as the two friendly opponents prepare to do battle. The Gould cluster will undoubtedly send Young to the hill, while the old timers will start Bud Browne on the mound. Among the returning men who will see action are: Keddy, Young, Littlehale, Clough, Stanley, Bartlett, Wheeler, Onofrio, and Armato. It should be quite a battle.

GIRLS' SPORTS

Badminton and softball finals ended on May first with Ann Terribery the interclass champion of badminton and the sophomore class winners of the softball tournament.

There were plenty of thrills and excitement in the softball games, but the sophomores managed to come out first with the seniors following after a very close game; the third and fourth places were taken by the freshmen and juniors, respectively.

Badminton has taken time and energy from everyone that took part in the tournament, but it was well worth it. The champions of each class were: Ann Terribery of the se-
